

The Formentera Office of Local Development is pleased to announce that this September, the Consell de Formentera will begin selection processes to recruit seven employees as part of an under-30s programme of the Balearic employment service (Servei d'Ocupació de les Illes Balears, SOIB).

On offer are positions for two early childhood educators, two assistant sports managers, one technical architect, one equality manager and one technical engineer. The 12-month contracts start between 1 and 15 October.

SOIB Jove Qualificats seeks to promote employment among individuals aged 18 to 30 who are registered as job seekers with SOIB Jove or in the National Youth Guarantee System (Sistema Nacional de Garantía Juvenil, SNGJ). Candidates must have completed university studies, and little to no previous work experience is required.

Ana Juan, Consell de Formentera president and councillor of entrepreneurship, said that the programme, which meant work for two islanders in its previous round, "is a great chance for young people to get more training and enter the job market".

Once the offers are published, interested parties can apply on the SOIB website here.
