

The Formentera Council has posted to its website a revised and updated list of community organisations that operate on the island. For each entity, the list—which purports to be exhaustive—provides a set of basic information including a name, an address, and a telephone number or an e-mail address.

As councillor of community involvement, Sergio Jiménez, highlighted, “our goal is to make it easy for anyone trying to find like-minded groups and individuals. We want people to be able to find the entities and organisations that are out there for them.”

Organisations on the list are classified by activity, with categories including social action; culture, art and patrimony; agriculture; neighbourhood and owners' associations; education and sports.

The list can be found on the website of the Formentera Council (www.conselldeformentera.cat) in the section dedicated to community involvement, or 'participació ciutadana'.
