

This Monday marks the opening of Sol Courreges’ “Todo va a estar bien”, an exhibit with which the artist hopes to show islanders that, even after the months-long drudgery of confinement, there is always a bright side, and perhaps no better time for better care of our planet and ourselves, our happiness and our bodies. Part of Courreges’ work is made from recycled materials. The exhibit will be in the Centre Antoni Tur “Gabrielet” from 13 to 22 July, from 10.00am to 2.00pm and 7.00pm to 10.00pm.
